U.S. Welcomes Pope On Peace Mission

PONTIFF ARRIVES. Pope Paul VI, followed by United Nations Secretary-General U Thant, waves as he leaves his plane at Kennedy Airport where he arrived today for a history-making visit to the U. S. and United Nations. (UPI Telephoto)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Pope Paul VI, pleading for peace, arrived today for his grave rendezvous with the powers of the world. Millions turned out in fervent welcome.

"God bless this land of yours," he said.

He stepped onto American soil at 9:37 a.m. (EDT), a thin, earnest man in white and red, the first pope ever to set foot in the Western Hemisphere, on the longest papal trip in history.

At John F. Kennedy Airport, and across the populous reaches of the city, vast throngs banked the streetsides to shout and wave their salutations.

From the "spiritual city of peace," the Pope said he brought his petition of conciliation to the "terrestrial city of peace" sought by the United Nations.

Pontiff Blesses Nation

"Their meeting is most marvelous," he told statesmen and prelates assembled to greet him. "Justice and peace have kissed one another. May God grant that this be for mankind's greater good."

Waves of applause and excited calls broke out as U.N. Secretary-General U Thant escorted the Pope along a red carpet to a low, scarlet-carpeted platform for his remarks.

"Greetings to you, America," he said in incisive English. "The first pope to set foot upon your land blesses you with all his heart."

He praised this country, "so free, so strong, so industrious, so full of wonders," and he acclaimed the United Nations as "that greatest of all international organizations."

He came, he said, to give his support to "its permanency and its development" in preserving peace.

It was an urgent cause, in a strife-torn world but his reception was a festival of joy.

Crowds pressed around him, stretching out their hands, even as he departed the tightly restricted airport for his 24-mile motorcade into the heart of the metropolis.

Police, spaced at 20 feet, held back the throng. Children waved and bands played.

The stirring, cross-town motorcade came after formal airport greetings from top officials of government, church and the United Nations.

Among those present were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Italy's Amintore Fanfani, president of the U.N. General Assembly, and Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

It was the end of a 4,280-mile, night, sets down at Kennedy nine-hour flight for the Pope, but he appeared rested and fresh.

Millions in the world's greatest metropolitan center sought a glimpse of the pontiff. And, in minuscule, America was there for him to see: her affluence, her poverty, her faithful, her indifferent, her soaring beauty, her shabbiness.

In 14 unprecedented hours, the spiritual leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics also confers with President Johnson, meets Church leaders, says Mass at Yankee Stadium and visits the Vatican Pavilion at the World's Fair.

Negroes Set New March In Natchez

Police Arrest 409 During Weekend's Demonstration Bids

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Charles Evers, state field secretary of the NAACP, said Negroes would demonstrate here again tonight despite the arrest of 409 civil rights workers in weekend demonstrations.

Police arrested 103 in the first of three attempted marches to the City Hall Sunday. Evers turned some 500 Negroes back after they ran into a police barricade the second and third times, both after dark.

The number jailed, including a few whites, reached 409 with 19 pickets arrested Friday, and 16 pickets and 271 marchers picked up Saturday.

Most of those arrested have been taken to the state prison farm at Parchman, 200 miles to the north. Police said those 12

Cubans Offered Refuge

Johnson Opens U.S. Doors In Answer To Castro

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson set the gears of government and diplomacy in motion today to offer America's refuge to Cubans who seek to leave the Communist island of Fidel Castro.

"I declare to the people of Cuba that those who seek refuge here in America will find it," Johnson said Sunday in a windswept bill-signing ceremony at the Statue of Liberty.

"The dedication of America to our traditions as an asylum for the oppressed is going to be upheld," Johnson thus took up the challenge posed by Castro's offer to let those of his people who wish leave their homeland and go to America.

But just hours after Johnson spoke, Castro laid down a new challenge in a Havana speech, telling the U.S. President to also open the doors to permit Americans to travel to Cuba if they wish.

"Let the United States permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba," Castro shouted to a cheering audience. "Let them permit any citizen to come freely to Cuba."

Travel of Americans to Cuba and other Communist countries now is restricted by the State Department.

Of Johnson's proposal to permit Cubans to come to America, U.S. government sources believe 50,000 to 75,000 Cubans might seize the opportunity to leave their homeland and take up refuge in the United States.

Johnson stood at one historic port of entry — choppy, white-capped New York harbor — to open the gates of another, Miami. He said the Florida city will be "a temporary stopping place for refugees as they resettle in other parts of this country."

Johnson's dramatic announcement overshadowed his major mission on Liberty Island, the ceremony in which he signed a new immigration bill into law. It will erase the system of immigration quotas based on national origin. Johnson called the old system un-American.

Scores of government officials and hundreds of sight-seeing tourists thronged Liberty Island as Johnson signed the measure and passed out souvenir pens. Before the crush of pen-seekers was over, he passed out three cartons full, perhaps 300 pens.

Johnson said first priority in immigration to the United States will go to Cuban refugees who have relatives here, and to political prisoners.

State Department sources estimated 30,000 to 50,000 Cubans may be in those categories.

The President announced these steps to open America's doors for Cubans who seek to join some 270,000 of their countrymen already in the United States.

—He said he has asked the State Department to seek through the Swiss government an arrangement for the movement of refugees from Cuba to Miami. The United States does not maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Johnson said he wants the Swiss to seek Cuban agreement in a request to the International Red Cross Committee for assistance in processing refugee movement.

But Castro in his Havana speech rejected the idea of Red Cross aid. Castro said he was ready to begin negotiating the matter with the Swiss Embassy, which represents the U.S. government in Havana. Castro added

Castro Says Guevara Has Ended Duties

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says Ernesto Guevara, one of the key leaders of his revolution, finished his work in Cuba six months ago and moved on to revolutionary activity elsewhere.

Castro talked about his former close associate in a speech to a rally Sunday night. He did not say where Guevara, a native of Argentina, had gone or where he was now.

Guevara's Cuban wife was in the audience, dressed in black. The crowd gave her an ovation when she entered. She appeared near tears.

Guevara had been minister of industries and in the first years of the revolution dominated the Cuban economy. He disappeared last spring, and since then there have been numerous conflicting rumors about his whereabouts.

Castro read a letter which he said Guevara gave him April 1. It said "other lands in the world" needed his services.

"I have fulfilled the part of my duty that bound me to the world," Guevara wrote.

Wellsville Vehicle Swerves On Road; Autos Hit Head-On

County's 1965 Traffic Toll
34 KILLED

STAY ALIVE IN '65!

A young Salineville area couple, both natives of Wellsville, was killed and three other persons were injured in a head-on auto collision Sunday at 2:05 p.m. on County Rd. 418, the Old Salineville Rd., almost a mile east of Route 39, near Wellsville.

The victims were Edwin Eugene Bettis, 24, of Salineville R.D. 1 and his wife, Mrs. Janice Kay Drummond Bettis, 22.

They were killed when their car was struck by another operated by Andrew E. Turick, 27, of 1793 Chester Ave., Wellsville. Turick and a daughter were hospitalized with injuries suffered in the crash, while another daughter was treated and released.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Turick failed to negotiate a right curve. The car went off the left side of the highway and rammed into an embankment.

The vehicle then went back onto the highway and collided head-on with the oncoming car driven by Mr. Bettis. Both cars were demolished.

Turick was in "fair" condition.

Russia Fires Lunar Probe Space Rocket

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a space rocket containing an automatic station toward the moon, a broadcast Tass dispatch said today.

The probe was designated as Luna 7. Tass said the launching was by a multistage rocket.

Tass said the station weighs 1,506 kilograms (934 pounds). "The final stage had been put in advance on an intermediary orbit of a satellite of the earth and then in accordance with a present program put the automatic station into the trajectory of its movement toward the moon," Tass said.

The automatic station was equipped with telemetering, measuring and other scientific instruments.

Army Controls Jakarta

Indonesia Reports Red Armed Units In Country

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Radio Jakarta said today that the Indonesian army is now in "firm control" of Jakarta but added there are reports of Communist activity in other parts of the country.

The broadcast gave no details of the Red activity. Indonesian observers in Kuala Lumpur said Communist paramilitary units, who are believed to have been supplied arms from Red China, could be preparing to take on army units loyal to the government.

Associated Press correspondent Antoine Yared reported from Jakarta that there were fears rebel troops from central Java would attack the capital.

President Sukarno in a broadcast Sunday said he was "firmly in charge" and "the leadership of the army at the moment is directly under me."

Sukarno's broadcast was his first public statement since a "revolutionary council" led by an officer in the president's palace guard attempted to seize power on Thursday.

Radio Jakarta said the bodies of six Indonesian generals killed by rebel forces were found in a common grave in an area of the capital known as "Crocodile Hole." They included the army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Achmad Yani, whose death had been reported earlier.

However, Radio Medan, in Sumatra, reported Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the armed forces chief and defense minister, was safe at the headquarters of Maj. Gen. Suharto.

British Embassy sources in Jakarta reported to Singapore that Suharto and another right-wing general, Maj. Gen. Pramono, appeared to be in control in the capital but that Sukarno was trying to reduce their power to "redress the balance."

For years Sukarno has played anti-Communist military leaders off against the Communists, but in recent months he had appeared to listen more and more to the Reds.

In a later broadcast message Sukarno, 64, appealed for unity of the armed forces so that "the air force and army will not clash with each other."

He also said accusations that the air force was involved in the coup attempt were not true.

In a broadcast made while the rebels held Jakarta radio last week, the air force commander, Air Vice Marshall Omar Dhani, was listed as a member of the revolutionary council. A statement broadcast by Jakarta radio Sunday said Dhani had re-

Government Losses High

Heavy Fighting Hits Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fierce fighting broke out today between a Vietnamese army battalion and a strong Viet Cong force in Binh Dinh province, 275 miles north-east of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman said the battle was still raging late today. Government losses were described as heavy.

The Vietnamese battalion was protecting an engineer battalion rebuilding a bridge which had been destroyed in heavy fighting near Phu Cu last week.

A relief force was dispatched but it reportedly made little contact with the enemy.

U.S. casualties in the action were described as light. All were advisers with the Vietnamese units.

South of the Da Nang Air Base, an estimated 150 to 200 Viet Cong ambushed a U.S. Marine patrol of 13 men and killed or wounded 10 of them Sunday.

Reinforcements sent to aid them also suffered some casualties, a Marine spokesman said.

Viet Cong guerrillas popped out of deep tunnels "like rats from holes," a military spokesman reported.

Three companies of Marines, backed by mobile artillery, swept the rice paddies and sugar cane fields 5 miles south of Da Nang but could not find the enemy force.

Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, U.S. Marine commander in Viet Nam, said at least 11 Viet Cong were killed by infantry, artillery and air attack but other officers believed the toll was higher.

Another major battle appeared to be developing in South Viet Nam's southernmost province of An Xuyen, 130 miles southwest of Saigon.

Several government battalions caught up with a Viet Cong battalion, but there were no reports of casualties on either side.

A U.S. Air Force A1E Sky-raider crashed today near Tay Ninh, 60 miles north of Saigon, killing the pilot. The plane was TWISTED WRECKAGE gives mute evidence to the impact of the crash which claimed the lives of a Salineville area man and his wife Sunday afternoon on the Old Salineville Rd. near Wellsville. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1 were killed instantly when their car, left, was struck head-on by the car on the right, operated by Andrew Turick of Wellsville. Turick and his two daughters were injured.

tion today at City Hospital with a possible skull fracture and lacerations of the lips.

His daughter, Debbie Turick, 6, whose address is listed as 1751 Main St., Wellsville, was treated for fractures of the fourth and fifth fingers of the left hand, while her sister, Andrea Lynn Turick, 3, was in "fair" condition with a fractured upper left arm.

The deaths raised the Columbiana County traffic toll to 34 for the year, compared with 23 for the same period in 1964.

Mr. and Mrs. Bettis leave two daughters, Kendra Elaine Bettis and Kathy Jo Bettis, both at home.

Mr. Bettis was born April 7, 1941, a son of Edwin Bettis and Doris Edmundson Bettis of Wellsville, now of Highlandtown. He was employed as a crane operator at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. A Navy veteran, he was a member of the Highlandtown Methodist Church.

Besides the daughters and his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Richard Carl Bettis, stationed with the Air Force at Loring, Maine, and Jerry Lee Bettis of Highlandtown, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Edmundson of Wellsville.

Mrs. Bettis was born June 17, 1943, a daughter of Carl Drummond of Wellsville and the late Mrs. Esther Fulton Drummond. A beautician, she was graduated from the A. & H. Beauty School. A 1961 graduate of Wellsville High School, she was a member of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Besides her daughters and her father, she is survived by her step-mother; two half-brothers, Darrell Drummond of Columbus and Roger Drummond of Wellsville, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fulton of Wellsville.

Joint services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the Haugh Funeral Home by the Rev. Allen Rose of the Highlandtown Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Highlandtown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Rites Slated Tuesday For Columbiana Man

Services will be held Tuesday for Raymond Lower Todd, 75, of Leetonia R.D. 2, who died Saturday at 4 p.m. in St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Youngstown of injuries suffered in a two-way collision Friday afternoon on State Route 164 at Hatcher Rd., south of Columbiana.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Todd's car, eastbound on the township road, was involved in a collision with the car of Mrs. Sherry Elaine Rice, 19, of Leetonia R.D. 1, moving north on State Route 164. The patrol said Mr. Todd stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of Mrs. Rice's car.

The collision was timed Friday at 3:15. Five others were injured, including Mr. Todd's widow, Mrs. Florence A. Todd, 65.

Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Rice were admitted to Salem City Hospital, along with Mrs. Rice's daughter, Theresa Denise, 3, and her son, Glenn Allen, 2. Another daughter of Mrs. Rice, Pamela Jane, 5, was transferred to South Side Hospital at Youngstown for surgery on facial injuries.

Mr. Todd's widow is the former Florence Merrell, whom he married Oct. 1, 1930.

Mr. Todd was born July 6, 1890 in Unity Township, a son of John and Alverdie Lower Todd. He operated a farm on Bunker Hill Rd.

The rites will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Seederly-revolution in your territory," the letter said.

Beilhart Funeral Home in Columbiana, where friends may call this afternoon and tonight.

"I formally resign from my post as major the highest rank in the Cuban army, as minister of industries, and my status as a Cuban. He was proclaimed a native Cuban citizen in 1959. "My only mistake of any seriousness," the letter continued, "was not to have confided more in you since the first moments of the Sierra Maestra where Castro's revolution started and not having sufficiently understood your qualities as director and as revolutionary."

There was no explanation of this apparent reference to differences between the two men. The letter added without explanation: "I liberated Cuba from any responsibility."

"In the new battlefields I shall carry on... the obligation to fight against imperialism wherever it may be," the letter said.

The Bishop Of Rome

If the two events had been planned for years, the visit of Pope Paul VI and President Johnson's decision to sign the new immigration bill in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty could not have come together more harmoniously.

Though its significance is not stressed in U.S. history, Catholicism figured importantly in settlement of the American continent. Spain and France were Catholic countries. England was in a state of bitter religious contention. Roman Catholicism was present in every colonizing project in the New World and is a vital influence here.

The instinct for survival that made the Bishop of Rome the most powerful figure in the Old World and distinguished the Roman Catholic Church as the hardest organization to evolve in Western Civilization is still dominant.

It has made the influence of the Vatican one of the key elements in modern life. It is significant at this time in the 20th century that Roman Catholicism is once more going through one of the many readjustments that have punctuated its long history.

The readjustments concern not only beliefs but organizational structure.

As always before, the readjustments are surrounded by differences of opinion. But as always before, the differences of opinion, themselves, reflect the strength of the faith that has made the church the oldest and hardest of institutions. It has survived and flourished not by complacency but by controversy.

The Bishop of Rome has come to the United States for only one day. But the length of his visit is of no consequence. What is of consequence is the longevity of the great institution he leads, its vital relationship to Western Civilization and its efforts to establish peace among men.

McNamara's Dilemma

Secretary of Defense McNamara has spent so much of his lengthening public career holding bears by the tail that his scuffle with Army reservists and National Guardsmen will be only another chapter in his Washington memoirs.

His dilemma keeps changing names but is always the same. He wants to tighten up the military establishment for the sake of efficiency but doesn't know how to do it without offending sentimentalists, traditionalists and local politicians who hate to give up a tug on the government cow.

But Secretary McNamara has discovered something of momentous importance in public life. He has discovered there are three steps to accomplishment in the performance of unpopular duty.

First is the announcement, greeted by shrieks of protest.

Second is the reaction. At this point, some people will wonder if the shriekers didn't shriek too much.

Third is the certainty that what was greeted with shrieks at the outset isn't as unpopular as the shrieks indicated and could be done about as planned if tackled with a firm hand.

Secretary McNamara has closed down many military installations by using a firm hand. His newest plan for reorganizing the reserve and the guard undoubtedly will look a lot better after the shrieking has subsided.

14-B Won't Be Repealed

Politicians in Congress and the labor unions are watching a virtuoso at work in the White House on the 14B issue.

President Johnson is publicly committed to get rid of this section of the Labor-Management Act of 1947 (the Taft-Hartley Act). Labor unions don't like it, and the President wants labor-union votes.

The section gives the separate states a choice between prohibiting compulsory unionism and permitting it. Nineteen states prohibit it.

Because these are not important industrial states, the issue is academic. Unions have sewed up the right to demand compulsory membership in all states that count.

Nevertheless, the politicians of the union movement would feel more secure if they could get rid of 14B. Some day the idea of prohibiting compulsory union membership might catch fire and spread to other states.

Hence, the importance of having President Johnson on their side.

But President Johnson is just as interested in staying on the good side of employers as on the side of their unionized employees. He is interested in shining up his image as the head of a government of consensus, not as the agent of a minority of the nation's wage earners.

He has been incredibly successful in doing this so far. This is why it's likely he will do it again in the 14B issue.

And what will he do? He will stay on the record in opposition to 14B, but he will not be able to get it repealed. And because politicians in Congress would rather talk about it than settle it, 14B won't be repealed.

Sen. Morton's Realistic View

The people gnashing their teeth about Sen. Thurston Morton's stand against John Birchers in the GOP are brewing a tempest in a teapot — and furnishing the tempest and the teapot.

All the Kentucky Republican wants to do is keep Birchers from seizing party leadership the way they seized it at the GOP convention in San Francisco.

The Republican party can't purge itself of every person who belongs to the John Birch Society. Neither can the Democratic party purge itself of every extremist in its ranks. The two-party system doesn't work that way.

But Democrats have eased diehard segregationists and bitter-end states' rightsers out of party authority — and this is what Sen. Morton thinks Republicans should do with John Birchers.

They should be kept from controlling the party, lest they alienate voters the way voters were alienated in 1964 when millions of Americans who otherwise would have supported the Republican party went over to the Democratic candidate to show their disapproval.

This happened because the Republican candidate was believed to be ultra-acceptable to Birchers and because the impression has been made that Birchers had been strongly instrumental in giving him the Republican nomination.

Sen. Morton is an objective and realistic political counsellor. He once served as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

He knows practical politics.

He knows Republicans cannot afford to be dominated by John Birchers.

Why there should be a tempest in a teapot

when he says so is known only to the tempesters.

We're Glad

After the House of Representatives had voted off the record to give its members automatic pay increases from now on, some prudent soul called for an on-the-record vote and the proposition was licked.

We're glad.

If the Senate shows the same sense of restraint, we can be glad twice.

Representatives and senators gave themselves a fat $7,500 increase a year ago. That took them to $30,000 a year plus perquisites, which in some cases includes wives and assorted relatives on the payroll.

As is always argued when legislators boost their pay, the theory was that the quality of remuneration should not be strained but salary increases should droppeth like the gentle rain on all beneath.

Freely translated, this meant that hundreds of thousands of others living off the public payroll should get raises at the same time. In numbers there is strength.

The current rush to the federal trough is a come-one-come-all proposition — 1.8 million people, including legislators. But this time there was to be a new twist. Representatives and senators were to be included automatically in every future pay raise granted to federal employees.

It's reassuring to know the representatives chickened out on the record vote.

It gets tiresome, chiding them for going to the trough so often, let alone for trying to automate their gluttony.

Purely Personal Observations

By Truman Twill

Everybody will like Roger Kahn's roundup of the New York Times in the current Satevepost. Newspapermen, of course, are especially interested. Three men I have worked with are top Timesmen, including one of the executives pictured in the article.

One thing I do not miss in TV football is the loudmouth who sits behind you at games and tells everybody how the game should be played, what is wrong with the home-team coach and which of his butter-fingered players should be fired.

I have concluded that I get along with fewer beefs than many people I know because I have lower requirements. This I attribute to the fact I never knew until an advanced age how high people can live on the proverbial hog.

The more I find out about the Bay of Pigs the more I am reminded of Pearl Harbor, which left me bug-eyed over the pervasive in-tentude of my great good government. It's not a case of blaming individuals but of realizing that snafu is a way of life in government.

My traveling companion and I are still wondering about a couple who played gin rummy all the way to California, never leaving out the train window. Were they seasoned travelers who had seen it all before, or were they members of the odd-ball group that will play cards right through Judgment Day?

I do not read stories about defendants tried for murder in Southern courts. There is no suspense. I know how it's going to come out. What I wonder is how the legal officials who write scripts for the court farces can look at themselves when they shave.

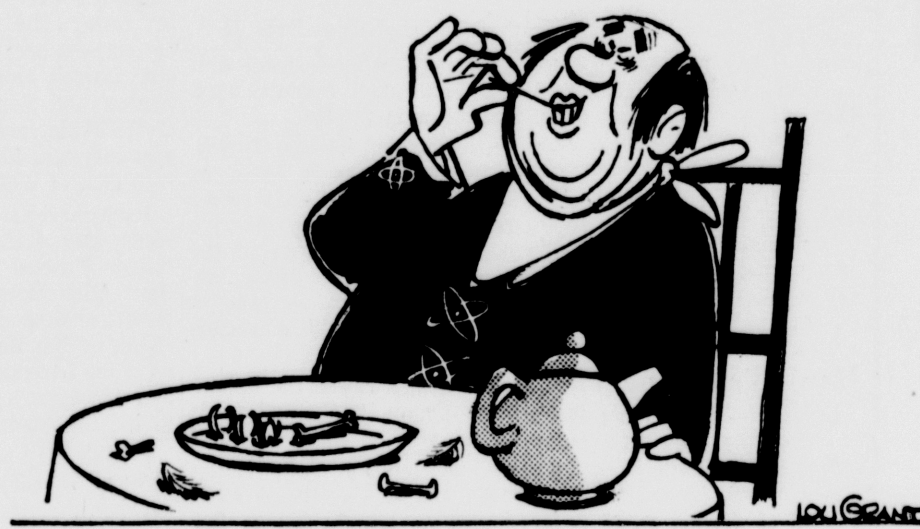

Another solid building is being demolished within sight of my workshop window, bringing things closer to the eventuality that now is a certainty — acres of black-topped parking lots covered with autos whose drivers have disappeared for the day.

I doubt that condemnation for the mother who abandoned a mentally disturbed boy at the Miami Airport was forthcoming from parents frustrated by the same problem—only from people unaware of the depth and width of this dilemma.

On Memorial Day last May, I planted petunias and geraniums, both in bloom, along with other flowers, and now at the beginning of October both are still blooming after five months. That's what you might call a permanent flower arrangement.

The only bicycle I ever owned was a crude contraption by comparison with the modern beauties. But nothing I ever owned, including my first auto — a Model A Ford — gave me more pleasure. I can still imagine the wind in my hair on my first cross-country ride — and that takes imagination.

Use Of Foreign Ships Criticized

By Victor Riesel

There may come a day shortly when there will be more presidential advisers in the federal courtroom here than at a Cabinet meeting.

Many of them are being sued by big Joe Curran, National Maritime Union (NMU) chief, a gravel-voiced giant with a low boiling point and a high patriotic dudgeon over the use of foreign flag-ships, manned by unchecked, unfriendly crews, to carry U. S. defense materials to Viet Nam.

Curran says the chartering of such foreign craft is illegal. And he wants Defense Secretary McNamara, along with the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, and the secretary of commerce, John Connor, and Attorney General Katzenbach and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall to appear for pre-trial examination.

They're all under subpoena served by federal marshals on order of the U. S. District Court where the suit has been filed under an ingenious complaint drawn up by barrister Abraham Freedman.

Curran and the NMU, as well as the other maritime unions who are not partners in the suit, want the Pentagon to use only American freighters. There are ample vessels — and the law of August 1956, based on a 1904 statute, says that the Defense Department positively must use U.S.A. ships.

THERE HAVE BEEN delays in the delivery of tanks, artillery, tires and other weapons and equipment to the fighting forces in Viet Nam in the last two months when foreign crews refused to sail. Some were offered bonuses — one totaling $10,000.

At least four such incidents are known. Not the least of Curran's angry criticism is aimed at the Defense Department's continued use of the freighter Marilena P. even after its foreign crew refused to take cargo to Viet Nam.

Curran's argument pivots on the refusal of crews or parts of crews in U.S. ports as well as in Japan to sail to Vietnamese harbors. Even fuel has been delayed.

These foreign crews, says he in a written statement submitted to this column, are being increasingly picked up in Hong Kong where there is no security check and where the men will sign on for what is considered slave wages. Yet the Pentagon, says Curran, has refused to abandon its use of foreign flag craft. After

At sea, the carrier Midway launched more than 70 sorties against suspected Viet Cong concentrations along the coast.

Its pilots claimed to have destroyed 90 buildings.

No planes were lost, a spokesman said.

The U.S. Air Force said its planes flew 150 sorties during the 24-hour period ending today, dropped 228 tons of bombs and destroyed 216 buildings.

A battalion of Marines swarmed ashore in amphibious vehicles and helicopters on a peninsula 60 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, in Binh Donh province, Friday and cleared it by Saturday, spokesmen said.

Youth Faces Charges After 3-Way Collision

A 16-year-old youth was cited to Juvenile Court following a traffic collision Friday night in which a police cruiser and an East End man's convertible were damaged, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

Russell McCloud, 2129 Sherwood Ave., was cited by officers for failing to stop within the assured clear distance after his 1965 convertible hit the rear of a 1965 cruiser driven by Patrolman L. E. Richard.

Plumley and the cruiser were halted for the traffic signal at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. when the mishap occurred, police reported.

Mishaps Hurt Man, Woman At Wellsville

Two persons were hospitalized as the result of traffic accidents in Wellsville over the weekend.

Mrs. Clemma Merical, 307 Wells Ave., remains in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car while crossing Wells Ave. near her home Saturday.

George Shively of Ashtabula was in "good" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident Sunday at 3:10 a. m., also on Wells Ave.

Police said Mrs. Merical was struck by a car operated by Augusta Westphal of Cleveland. Westphal told police he noticed the woman crossing, but was unable to halt in time to avoid hitting her.

Mrs. Merical suffered contusions and lacerations of the right side of the forehead, lacerations of the left elbow and abrasions of the knees and left hip.

Shively's car knocked down a small road sign and a school crossing flasher signal at the intersection of Wells Ave. and Route 45. He was headed west at an apparent high rate of speed when the vehicle went out of control and jumped over the curb. After hitting the two signs, the car returned to the street and skidded to a halt, police said.

Mrs. Lawrence Brown of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, was treated at the hospital for contusions of the neck suffered in an accident at 11:05 a. m. Saturday at the corner of 3rd St. and Broadway.

Police said Mrs. Brown had halted on 3rd for a traffic light and her car was hit in the rear by another car operated by Novella Peterson of Aten Ave. Ext. who was charged with operating an unsafe vehicle.

Police said the gasoline tank of a car operated by Virginia Uhas of Steubenville was ripped off when she hit a dip at the intersection of 10th and Commerce Sts. Sunday at 6:55 p. m. Firemen were called to flush away the gasoline that spilled in the gutter.

Negroes Downed By Police In Bid To Get Upon Bus

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Negro demonstrators tried to run past state police today to board a bus carrying white school children, and several of the Negroes were hurled to the ground. Two were dragged from the street and arrested when they went limp.

Georgia's grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, grabbed one of the Negro youths by the shoulder after a state trooper had blocked the demonstrator. Craig wrestled him to the ground.

Craig told newsmen afterward that the Klan will increase tension in this rural east Georgia town until the governor takes action to stop the integration attempt.

Twelve Negro pupils showed up at the spot where white children board buses for schools in surrounding counties. Negroes have been trying to integrate the buses since all the white pupils in Taliaferro County transferred following submission of a desegregation plan for their schools here.

Pet Bird Returns To Home In East

EMMITSBURG, Md. (AP) — The swallows, they say, come back to Capistrano, but Lil' Peep comes back to Emmitsburg. Lil' Peep is an English sparrow.

It all started when Mrs. John Davenport's daughter, Linda, 15, found a baby sparrow in the barn. It had fallen from its nest and was too young to fly. The family took it into the house, fed it, and named it Lil' Peep.

Then, several weeks ago, much older and wiser and with a full set of feathers, Lil' Peep was released.

"We knew it was wild and needed freedom," said Mrs. Davenport.

Lil' Peep flew away—but not for long. That night, much to the delight of the Davenport children, Lil' Peep returned.

And the bird has been returning every night since.

Teener Tired Of Being Dubbed Fatso

A troubled teen-age girl feels goaded into stuffing. She writes: "Help! I've gotten so heavy I can't bear it. I am at least 20 pounds overweight. I want to lose so bad, but I can't get with it. When my parents call me fatty, or fatso, I start to cry. Then I get so nervous I start eating. I eat constantly, even though I am not hungry. Please help me!"

All right, here it is. First of all, it isn't easy to take ribbing, especially when you are young; but crying won't solve anything. Although you did not give your height and weight, obviously you are not overweight to the point of making it such a problem. If you were, your parents would not resort to teasing you.

TRY TO GET a new viewpoint on the situation. Emerson expressed it this way: "If truth comes to mind, we suddenly grow, as if to new worlds."

Could you take the attitude that your parents are indirectly trying to push you into taking needed action? If your folks were to cease needing you about being chubby, would you change your eating habits and step up your activities? The question is, What do you want to do about your weight?

At present you seem to be conducting a fruitless feud with your parents. They frustrate you by calling you fatty. You frustrate them by continuing the pattern of eating and overeating that keeps you from slimming down.

To gain insight into the problem, look at your situation objectively. Do you, in a rebellious sort of way, unwittingly want to strike back at your parents? Until you are aware of why you balk at changing, you will play the record over and continue the same pattern. Recognize that you can never win this way!

EXERCISE is the healthy way to dispel pent-up emotions. Grab hold of this idea and put it into action. "Let motion equal emotion." Get out and run around the block.

Studies have shown that overweight girls are inordinately inactive. Get with exercise. Whip into gym at school. Do you play tennis? Could you swim a quarter of a mile? Turn on the music and dance!

Honey, have you ever asked your parents to help you get on the beam and banish the bulges? Get a picture in your mind of how you want to act the next time anyone calls you fatty. Even though you feel like crying — smile! Try it, you'll find a release from tension.

Unless you are alert to what you tend to do, you'll automatically play the record over and cry up a storm. It takes forethought to change this habit pattern, but you can resolve to act, instead of react. Learn this discipline, apply the winning technique and it can help you all the rest of your life, with many other kinds of problems.

Send a stamped, self-addressed long envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge" and slim hips in a hurry. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Teacher's Fund Helps 3 Alliance Students Yearly

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Three Alliance high school graduates go on to school each year because Oliver M. Coxen was hired 71 years ago as a teacher.

Coxen, a native of nearby Marlboro, taught three years in the Alliance school system, beginning in 1880, and served one year as school superintendent.

Then he quit education for business. He was successful, but he never lost his interest in education.

When he died Nov. 2, 1926, in Canton, he left a $50,000 trust fund to be used each year to aid three Alliance high school graduates in furthering their education.

That trust didn't become operative until 1951, because his estate was left in trust of two sisters until their deaths. The second sister died in 1950 and the next year the first scholarships were granted.

Since then, the fund has earned $33,186 interest and 45 students—31 girls and 14 boys—have received cash awards to help them attend colleges, universities, nursing schools and other educational institutions.

Thieves Strip East End Auto

An East End man reported to police Saturday afternoon that his auto was stripped by thieves while parked near his home late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Thomas Webber, 1635 St. George St., said the thieves stole four 7-10x-15 tires, four white rims, a radiator and two headlights from his 1956 station wagon.

After removing the tires and wheels, they let the station wagon down on the ground, Webber said.

In checking, Webber said he found some of the nuts were left on the ground in a lot about 450 feet from his home. Neighbors heard a noise between 3 and 4 a. m. Saturday, but thought it was other neighbors returning home, he told police.

Thomas Culbert, 306 Church St., Chester, told police the top of his auto and radio antenna were damaged by vandals while it was parked on Mulberry St. between 10 p. m. Saturday and 12:30 a. m. Sunday.

Frosted Windshield Blamed For Mishap

LISBON — A frosted windshield was blamed for an accident at 5:30 this morning when a trailer truck hit a fire hydrant at N. Park and N. Market Sts.

Ernest Cozza of Salem, the driver, said he was intending to park his truck on N. Market but the frosted windshield prevented him from seeing the hydrant.

Although there was no damage to Cozza's truck, city water officials now are repairing the damaged hydrant.

Peace Dominates Talks By Pope And President

NEW YORK (AP) — President and Pope meet today for the first time on American soil, to discuss the same topic that dominated three earlier meetings of this kind at the Vatican — world peace.

President Johnson will be host to Pope Paul VI in the 35th-floor presidential suite at the Waldorf-Astoria.

After the two world leaders have a private conference, the chief executive will introduce his wife, Lady Bird, to the pontiff. Then Johnson, a member of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), will present his youngest daughter, Luci Baines, who was baptized a Roman Catholic on her 18th birthday last July 2.

Three other presidents — Woodrow Wilson, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy — met with Popes, but always at the Vatican. On each occasion, the quest for enduring peace was the theme.

Johnson and Paul VI met once before, on June 17, 1963, following a requiem funeral Mass for Pope John XXIII. At that time Johnson was vice president

25 Attend Judging Classes Arranged By Dahlia Society

Twenty-five senior judges, apprentice judges and growers attended a judging school sponsored by the East Liverpool Dahlia Society Sunday at the home of Leo C. Lawrence.

J. T. Eccleston, chairman of the judging, explained the standards by which the dahlia is judged and scored.

Jerry Kovar of Southington, Ohio, and Harold Shannabrook of Massillon also took part in the discussion.

Glenn Ruth of Cleveland, president of the Dahlia Society of Ohio, announced that Cleveland will play host to the Midwest Dahlia Conference Show Sept. 16-18, 1966, at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel.

Lunch was served. Visitors attended from Cuyahoga Falls, Cleveland, Southington, Massillon, Pittsburgh and Minerva.

Before the meeting, the club visited Lawrence's garden.

A board of directors meeting followed the judging school, with Frank Richmond, president, presiding.

The next regular meeting for the local society was set for Oct. 11 at the Potlatch Savings and Loan Co. annex. A program on "digging and storing of dahlia roots" will be presented in addition to an exhibition of late blooms.

Slides of the Midwest Show at Chicago will be screened by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birch.

How come 2,500,000 people in Ohio are insured by Metropolitan Life?

Here and everywhere, more and more people are discovering that life insurance can be as wide-awake and forward-looking as their own plans for the future. These are the people who've learned about Metropolitan's exceptional range of up-to-date plans and policies. Here are two examples:

New cash-building policy for business owners

Perhaps you have insurance problems involving partnership, stock retirement, key man, split dollar, or deferred compensation factors. Then check on Metropolitan's new Executive Equity plan.

It's especially designed for business owners who want protection while maintaining assets through a rapid buildup of cash values from their insurance premium payments.

New $50,000-and-up policy at notable savings

Perhaps you have short-term needs to cover a large loan, to protect a partnership against death, for other business protection — or for substantial family protection.

In that case, Metropolitan's new 10-year convertible term policy fills the bill. Written only in amounts of $50,000 and more, written strictly for 10 years and non-renewable, this new policy offers large cost savings.

Your premium is remarkably low — especially for the first two years. And, assuming that dividends* continue at current rates and are applied to premiums, payments will be kept low for the full ten years.

At any time within the period you can convert to a permanent type of insurance up to the full face amount — without taking a physical examination.

These new policies are just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company. Get the facts from your Metropolitan representative today.

More choose Metropolitan Life
millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people — more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

By J. A. LOCKE, JR.
Member American Gem Society

SYNTHETICS DEFINED

On the market today are many beautiful stones which jewelers term "synthetic." These include the star rubies and sapphires, emeralds, and many of the stones sold in birthstone rings. However, many consumers do not truly understand the meaning of the word "synthetic," assuming that it is more closely related to imitation gems rather than the natural more precious ones.

The jewelry industry recognizes three basic types of gems — natural, synthetic and imitation. Briefly, a NATURAL stone is one that occurs in nature, as distinguished from a man-treated substitute. In the broadest sense, an IMITATION is any material other than genuine gem material. A SYNTHETIC, on the other hand, is a reproduction of a stone which has the SAME CHEMICAL COMPOSITION, HARDNESS, SPECIFIC GRAVITY, REFRACTIVE POWER, DICHROISM as has the genuine stone it reproduces. The only difference is a slight one, and one that is frequently discernible only to skilled gemologists.

Many synthetic stones represent natural gems in their finest quality — the best color, little or no flaws, etc. However, being man-made, their price is far less than the natural gems, many of which are extremely rare today in ANY quality. This is especially true of fine rubies and sapphires. Synthetic emeralds are satisfying fashion demands for a fine green jewel within a woman's budget, and these stones are lending themselves well to the art of creative jewelry designers. However, it is important that the buyer truly understand the nature of these gems, and that the jeweler make it plain that the stone is a synthetic at the time of purchase.

MUSCULAR ACHES-PAINS

Take PRUVO tablets when you want temporary relief from minor aches and pains and body stiffness often associated with Arthritis, Rheumatism, Bursitis, Lumbago, Backache, and Painful Muscular aches. Lose these discomforts or your money back.

DYNAMIC DRUGS
507 Market St.

World and secular leaders, headed by U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Francis Cardinal Spellman greet him at the airport. Airport officials estimated more than 100,000 others also would be there.

From the airport a special $15,000 limousine with a raised seat takes the white-clad Pope on a 24-mile motorcade to Manhattan. The route goes through fashionable Forest Hills, through Spanish and Negro Harlem, through Central Park and down Fifth Avenue to St. Patrick's Cathedral, adorned by the papal coat of arms above its great bronze doors.

More than 18,000 police were stationed to control the millions gathered to see the pontiff and receive his blessing.

Security precautions are greater than those given the combined visits in 1960 of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Reinforcing the police were Secret Service agents at the first meeting on American soil of the world's most powerful religious leader and the leader of the mightiest nation of the Western world.

President Johnson flew here Sunday to sign a bill at the foot of the Statue of Liberty easing immigration restrictions. He remained overnight at the Waldorf-Astoria, site of the meeting with Pope Paul.

The first among the untold number of witnesses to the Pope's pilgrimage began to gather outside St. Patrick's Sunday morning. Police would not estimate how many among the 16 million in the metropolitan area would try to see the Pope.

Some streets were barricaded and at strategic locations were platforms for news photographers and the television cameras giving continuous live coverage to the Pope's visit.

Street vendors hawked souvenir banners and buttons. His Holiness' picture was pinned to newsstands and street-level store windows were boarded up as a precaution against the crushing crowd.

Before leaving the Vatican, Pope Paul spent his final hours in prayer and meditation. He asked a crowd of 30,000 gathered before his balcony and the world to pray for the success of his mission.

He said: "We thank all those in the world who are close to us for this singular travel — singular and great — but the aim is one usual and recurring in our thoughts and prayers: peace in the world, the peace of Christ."

"We believe that with this exceptional act we can really serve peace."

In a speech at his departure from Rome, he said the sole purpose of the trip was "to encourage, comfort and bless the forces of men of good will, aimed at protecting, guaranteeing and increasing universal peace."

"The world awaits and asks for peace."

"The world needs peace: the world demands peace — true, stable, durable — after the sufferings of the wars which have disrupted our century, after the immense sorrows that have devastated humanity."

The 8,500-mile round trip to the United Nations is the longest taken by Pope Paul and the first on a secular, not a religious, mission. He made a pilgrimage to the Holy Land in January 1964 and last December he went to Bombay, India, for a Eucharistic Congress.

The Alitalia jetliner assigned to the papal trip was fitted with a special bed for the Pope.

He was accompanied on the flight by seven cardinals selected to represent the various parts of the world and by newsmen. Even as he flew westward the 2,200 prelates at the Vatican Ecumenical Council prayed at a special Mass.

The pontiff's visit to the United Nations drew noted figures of government and Church to New York. And it put the prestige of the papacy behind the world political body as a key peace-making instrument among diverse societies and rulers of the earth.

The Pope chose for his first major stop in the new world St. Patrick's Cathedral, the twin-spired Gothic sanctuary at Fifth Avenue and 50th Street.

The Pope meets immediately afterward with President Johnson.

After his address he speaks to the U.N. staff and holds private audiences with world statesmen.

From the United Nations he goes to the Holy Family Catholic church, where he receives leaders of the Protestant, Jewish and Catholic centers to the United Nations. Other American leaders of the faiths will be seated in the church.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for four years and have undergone the third degree at least 1,000 times. My husband refuses to believe he is the only man who ever has made love to me.

He knows very well he was my first sweetheart. We started to go together when I was 15. I was 19 when we were married. There never has been another man in my life and there never will be—unless my husband makes me so miserable with his accusation and badgering that I am forced to divorce him to keep my sanity.

I'm thankful he doesn't accuse me in the presence of others. He waits until we are alone and the lights are out. It's always the same: "If you will just tell me I promise I won't get mad. I'll never throw it up to you."

Ann, it's almost as if he wishes there were somebody else. Why does he behave this way? It doesn't seem normal. Please tell me what to do.—NOT GUILTY.

Dear Not Guilty: When I tell you why he behaves this way you'll know what to do about it.

Some people find out-of-this-world fantasy essential to their sex life. They cannot function without it. The thoughts they entertain (or the thoughts that entertain them) never cross their minds at any other time. Your husband conjures up mental images of you and other men because it excites him. He knows very well that it's all in his head, so don't let his questions bother you.

Dry Wedding

Dear Ann: I am being married in a few weeks and liquor will be served at the wedding. I am a few months under 21 and many of my friends are under 21 also. I am not a drinker although drinking is not against my religion or my moral scruples. I just don't like liquor. Would it be wrong if I drank a toast at my own wedding? I'll bet you've never been asked this question before.—THE DRY ONE.

Dear Dry One: Don't bet your honeymoon money, Kid. Precious few questions are new to me.

If you don't like liquor, why drink it? A toast is just as effective if there's ginger ale in the glass—or even water.

No Gigolo

Dear Ann: I am a middle-aged man who has been dating a middle-aged woman for more than a year. (I will call her Lillian.)

We both have very good jobs and money is no problem to either of us. Whenever I take Lillian out for an evening, whether it's to the theater, a movie, or a concert, she insists on paying her own way.

She does not embarrass me publicly but she forces the money on me when we say good night. I have told Lillian repeatedly that I enjoy her company and I can well afford to pay her way. It makes me uncomfortable to accept money from her. Her reply is, "I don't want to be indebted to anyone."

I'd like to know what to do about this awkward situation. I feel like a gigolo.—GRAND ISLAND.

Dear Grand: Lillian is attempting to preserve her independence at the expense of your dignity.

She insults you by suggesting she would be under obligation to you if you paid for her dinner and took her to a movie. Explain your feelings and make it clear that from now on you insist on paying her way.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Open House' Planned At Station In LaCroft

The Liverpool Township, West, volunteer fire department will hold "open house" at the LaCroft station Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

Homer Cronin, chief, said demonstrations will be presented. The Civil Defense units will also be present.

The firemen plan to keep the station open until after the LaCroft Parent-Teacher Association meeting so the parents can visit the station. The department will hold an auction sale Oct. 13. Anyone with articles to donate may call Cronin at 386-6115.

Senators Set For Fight On 14-B Repeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was set today to stamp final approval on the foreign aid money bill and then plunge into debate on President Johnson's call for repeal of a ban on union shops.

Opponents of the repeal move, led by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, have lined up more than two dozen senators to speak at length against the House-passed bill to junk Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. It is this provision which permits states to outlaw labor contracts in which union membership is a condition of employment.

Administration forces claim a majority of the Senate backs repeal. But they are not claiming they have the votes to crack a filibuster. This requires two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Dirksen has agreed not to block consideration of conference reports on bills previously passed by the Senate. Because of this, the $3,218,000,000 foreign aid bill is expected to sail through.

In the House, a light schedule is on tap with two major measures — highway beautification and sugar — set for consideration later in the week.

The highway bill, already passed in the Senate, was cleared last week by the Rules Committee for floor debate. The Senate has not started sugar hearings.

The foreign aid bill was approved by the House Friday after Republicans narrowly lost a bid to force it back to conference to write in a ban on aid to any nation whose ships go to North Viet Nam. The bill urges Johnson to seek an end to such trading, but leaves continuation of aid up to him.

Dirksen is expected to be the first speaker when the Senate turns to consideration of a motion made last Friday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to bring up the repeal bill.

Mansfield, planning to be in New York today for the visit of Pope Paul VI, said of the repeal move: "We will give it a good try." The bill's floor manager, Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., said, "I'm sure we have the votes for passage — if we can get a vote."

Dirksen figures the desire of many senators to see this session end may help his side. "End-of-the-session weariness will be our ally," he said.

Firemen Called As Short Circuit Results In Smoke

A short circuit in a blower motor, which filled the house with smoke, sent firemen to a Sunnyside home early this morning.

Firemen were called to the home of Mary J. Coleman, 923 Florence St., at 4:30 a.m. Firemen said smoke got into the heat runs and penetrated the house.

Central firemen were called to Thompson Pl. at 8:13 p.m. Sunday when a carburetor backfire set afire the motorcycle of Richard Mays of Center Alley. The flames spread over the entire cycle, but were extinguished quickly, firemen said.

A false alarm turned in from Box 41 at Division St. and Dover Alley at 7:12 p.m. Saturday forced police and firemen to navigate fire trucks and cruisers through heavy pre-game football traffic in the West End. In addition to vehicular traffic, the ELHS band was en route to the game when the alarm was received at 7:12 p.m., officers said. Despite the hazards, firemen made the round trip in 12 minutes.

A pumper and emergency truck from Central and a pumper from the Pleasant Heights station responded to the alarm.

Judges' Session Opens In Canada

The National Association of Municipal Judges today opened its annual convention in Montreal, Canada, with Judge Samuel M. Chertoff scheduled to assume the presidency.

The local judge, named president-elect at the 1964 convention in Los Angeles, will succeed Judge George T. Martin of Dearborn, Mich.

The five-day convention at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel attracted approximately 250 judges from 45 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and all the provinces of Canada.

As the convention opened, Mayor Jean Drapeau welcomed the jurists to Montreal. The Province of Quebec will honor the judges at dinner and the City of Montreal will present a reception and buffet-style dinner.

Car Crash Hurts Leetonia Girl, 17

A Leetonia area girl was hurt seriously in one of four injury accidents investigated over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said Barbara Forney, 17, of Leetonia R.D. 1 was injured when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another on Route 14 almost a mile west of Route 165 Saturday at 9:12 p.m.

The drivers were Mrs. Mildred Cope, 44, of Rogers R.D. 1 and Linda Johnson, 17, of Columbiana R.D. 1.

Mrs. Cope was preparing to make a left turn and apparently halted on the highway. The Johnson girl rounded a curve over a hillcrest and hit the rear of the Cope vehicle, officers reported.

Miss Forney suffered severe multiple lacerations of the forehead and right eyelid. She was taken to Salem City Hospital and later transferred to Youngstown South Side Hospital.

MRS. COPE suffered a bruised right lower leg. Miss Johnson apparently escaped injury.

Peter Muscari, 42, and his wife, Mrs. Naydene Muscari, of R.D. 1 were injured in a collision Saturday at 9:16 a.m. on Dresden Ave. Ext. three-tenths of a mile north of the city limits.

Muscari halted to make a left turn and his car was hit in the rear by a car operated by Thomas Dale Huston, 29, of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor.

Huston was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, officers said. Mr. and Mrs. Muscari were treated at years old and older would be held at Parchman to await trial.

The marchers were charged with parading without a permit. The pickets were charged with contempt of court.

Chancellor Curtis Collins last Thursday issued an order prohibiting both the NAACP and the Ku Klux Klan from any action that might increase racial tensions in Natchez. City officials asked for the order.

Evers said Negroes would continue marching until the city granted their demands, which included school desegregation and the hiring of Negro policemen.

Each of the marches started from the Beulah Baptist Church. None got farther than two blocks.

Police Chief J. T. Robinson met the first wave of Sunday's marchers two blocks from the church and asked them to disperse. He said: "You're parading without a permit. No permit has been issued."

A Negro minister leading the group replied: "Chief, all we would like to do is go to jail and pray for our people you have. It's our constitutional right."

Then the marchers knelt for a prayer. When they got to their feet, Robinson said: "We think the place to pray is in church."

He placed them under arrest. Evers led the night marches. When they were stopped by Robinson and asked to disperse, Evers said: "We feel this is our basic constitutional right. We have been denied the right to picket and protest. We would appreciate it if you would step aside. We want to go to the City Hall and pray for our people in jail."

However, the marchers went back to the church.

In New York, Johnson also:

—Directed the Departments of State, Justice, and Health, Education and Welfare to make all the arrangements needed so that Cubans "who seek freedom" can make an orderly entry into the United States.

—He said he will ask Congress today for $12.6 million to carry out the commitment.

—He appealed to agencies which have volunteered aid for Cuban refugees to expand their efforts. "Their help is needed in the reception and resettlement of those who choose to leave Cuba," Johnson said.

Johnson's words on Liberty Island answered an offer which the State Department believes Castro thought would be rejected.

Castro first talked of the matter Sept. 28, discussing in terms U.S. officials labeled unclear the transfer of Cubans with relatives in the United States.

Two days later, the Cuban prime minister said people who wanted to go to the United States could go.

As Johnson declared that the United States would welcome Cuban refugees, government sources said the flow of Cubans probably would be about 5,000 a month. They said the United States will emphasize orderly movement of refugees.

Most of the Cubans now in this country flew here from Havana before direct airline service was halted during the missile crisis that erupted three years ago.

About 1,000 a month are entering the United States now, most of them with immigrant visas, by way of Mexico City and Madrid.

Deputies Probe House Enterings

LISBON — Sheriff's deputies today are investigating burglaries reported over the weekend at two county homes.

In a break-in at the summer home of the Richard Hickman family on Route 45 near Hillcrest, acts of vandalism were evident, but nothing was reported stolen. Deputies said burglars pried the lock off the back door to gain entrance.

Between $30 and $40 was reported stolen from a bedroom jewel box at the home of Carl Taylor, 455 Densmore Ave., La-Croft. Deputies said entrance might have been gained by a basement window.

Both break-ins happened sometime between Sept. 25 and Sunday. The cases are under investigation by Deputies Ronnie Gause, handling the Hickman break-in, and Kent Garmonth, the Taylor case.

Hank's Real-Life Story

Almost as good as marrying the boss' daughter is being the perfect model of what the boss thinks he was like when he was young. This has happened to young Dick Kallman, who plays the title role in NBC's new series "Hank," which is a little about an un-accredited and un-registered college student.

Hal Humphrey

"Actually this series should have been called 'Hugh' instead of 'Hank,' because Hugh Benson created it and it's his life," says the eager and energetic Kallman.

HUGH BENSON is executive assistant to Bill Orr, who is in charge of TV production at Warner Bros. According to Kallman, there was the usual shortage of good pilot scripts crossing Benson's desk about three years ago.

"I can come up with a better series idea myself than any I've seen so far," Hugh is supposed to have told his wife, Diane, one evening and she promptly put a pencil in his hand.

What he wrote about in outline form was a page from his own youth when he spent three years at the University of Southern California without benefit of registering. Like his TV hero, Benson was unable to finish high school, so became a campus "drop-in" at USC.

"SEEING HUGH at classes regularly became a campus joke, so the faculty let him become a class auditor rather than fight it," reports Kallman, who proudly names Benson as one of two most important people in his life. The other is Chicago columnist Irv Kupcinet.

Being in a rather favored position for the proper contacts, Benson soon had his idea for a college drop-in optioned by CBS, and when that one expired, NBC took it up and the rest is what the Messrs. Benson and Kallman hope is to be a long piece of TV history.

Kallman became the Benson prototype when the former spotted him in Chicago during his run there as Finch with the national company of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

"THE MINUTE Hugh saw me in that role he said, 'That's Hank.' Nobody else even tested for it," adds Kallman. "It wasn't the first meeting for the two. Following a fair run of success on the New York stage as a juvenile (he's 26 now), Kallman came to Hollywood without cutting much of a figure during a four-year period which included a few job interviews with Hugh Benson at Warner's.

If Benson saw any resemblance between Kallman and himself as a furtive college student, it obviously did not hit a creative button at that time.

Now, however, Kallman says he and Benson meet two or three times a week just to discuss the character of Hank and where he is going he means besides going to the bank.

"ONE THING Hugh insists on is keeping Hank honest. He attends all rehearsals, and any time he sees me getting the least bit hokey, he will say, 'Finch, Finch,' and I know he means some facial bit or manner I use with a line of dialogue as a gimmick, the way I played Finch in 'How to Succeed.'"

Kallman toured with "How To Succeed" for 18 months and 640 performances as Finch, a broad and almost slapstick character, so those extra little "sticks" he employs now and then are almost second nature.

With "godfather" Benson hovering paternally over his charge, one might conclude that Kallman could be getting a bit edgy, but he says absolutely not.

"WE HAD ONE little argument over a Finch-ism, but when I saw the rushes later it was Hugh who turned out to be right," says Kallman. "Everybody connected with Hank believes very strongly in the series. We've got 13 in the can now and there isn't a single one that I would tell you to skip seeing."

It's to be assumed that executive assistant Hugh Benson, whose youthful days at college are being relived on network TV, feels exactly the same way.

Army Coins Believed Buried On Farm Land

GRANVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — An Army payroll of gold and silver coins, buried in a meadow two centuries ago by retreating French troops, still is hidden near this upstate village, a local historian says.

The big mysteries, historian Morris Rose-Roten says, are the exact location of the treasure and its worth. He thinks the money lies somewhere on property now owned by farmer John Prouty.

Prouty admits he's intrigued by the story but says he has no plans to go treasure-hunting.

Zachary Scott, 51, Dies From Effects Of Tumor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Zachary Scott, who switched with ease from swagging drama to drawing room comedy in three decades as a leading man, died Sunday at the age of 51.

Death was attributed to a malignant brain tumor, detected after he complained of not feeling well last spring.

The moustached and darkly handsome star of stage, screen and television "simply went to sleep" about 5 p.m., said a brother-in-law, Fanning Hearon of Tryon, N. C. He said Scott had been in a coma for two days.

Death came at the home of his mother, Mrs. Zachary Scott Sr. Her son, an Austin native, returned here Aug. 9, leaving for only brief radiation treatments by a physician.

It was the end of a career in which he played scores of stage parts and took roles in 34 films, mostly before he quit Hollywood in 1950 and returned to make his home in New York.

Scott was wont to characterize his usual screen role as that of "a heel with charm." Associates, describing him as far from a heel in private life, liked to recall how he induced fan clubs in the 1940s to adopt war orphans and send them food and clothing.

Born Feb. 21, 1914, Scott turned to the stage in high school and at the University of Texas. With parental consent, he left college at 19 and headed for England. They stipulated that he earn his passage and he sailed from New Orleans as a seaman aboard a freighter.

He landed a juvenile lead in "The Outsider" with an English repertory company and appeared in nearly two dozen plays before returning to this country 18 months later.

Scott worked through summer stock to Broadway. Hollywood's Jack L. Warner spotted him in "Those Endearing Young Charms" and proffered his first movie contract in 1943.

With Scott during his final illness besides his mother were his wife, actress Ruth Ford, and one of his daughters, Mrs. William Crawford of Brooklyn Heights, N. Y.

Another daughter is Shelley Scott of New York City, born to Miss Ford by a previous marriage and adopted by Scott.

A private funeral service for members of the immediate family was arranged for today at the Scott home, "Sweetbrush." Burial was to be in a family plot at Austin Memorial Park.

Vegetable Tips Offered On Frost

LISBON — Many Columbiana County gardeners are puzzled about what to do with vegetables following a frost.

Some can stand temperatures as low as 28 to 30 degrees without serious damage, Extension Office officials point out.

Vegetables can be divided into two classifications with reference to injury by freezing, they said, with the two groups "hardy" and "tender" vegetables.

The hardy vegetables will withstand temperatures as low as 28 to 30 degrees, or lower, without serious damage. This group includes spinach, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, parsnips, turnips, Brussels sprouts, kale and mustard. They usually will survive several light frosts or a hard freeze and in some areas may remain in the garden until November.

Carrots and beets should be harvested after the tops show frost damage.

The tender crops are eggplant, tomato, pepper, muskmelon, watermelon, cucumber, squash and sweet corn. When frost is expected, the mature fruits should be harvested. Sweet corn may not be seriously injured by a light frost, but a heavy one will damage the kernels.

Child's Action Blamed After Sedan Drifts

A 2-year-old youngster who pulled her grandfather's parked car out of gear on St. Clair Ave. was blamed for a mishap early Sunday afternoon in which the auto drifted backward, struck a northbound auto and came to a halt against a wall about 80 feet away.

William S. Gunn of 6th Ave., LaCroft, told officers the family had just left church services and his granddaughter, Honey Gunn, had been placed in the front seat of the sedan parked about 100 feet north of North St.

Before anyone else got into the car, the child pulled the car out of gear and it drifted backward.

Karen Mae Marshall, 19, of Bloomfield, who was headed north, said she saw the drifting auto and attempted to get out of the path, but the right side of her car was struck. The mishap was timed at 12:09 p.m.

Police also received a report of a minor mishap at 12:18 a.m. yesterday at the Patterson-Welzel Cleaners lot on E. 3rd St.

It involved a backing auto operated by Richard Martin, 21, of Lisbon R. D. 1 and the parked car of Keith Allen Shenton, 20, of 323 Harrison St., Newell, they said.

Only minor damage was caused in a mishap at 11:25 a.m. Saturday on W. 4th St. near Peach Alley involving a westbound sedan driven by Jason H. Frischkorn, 55, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a parked convertible owned by Carl K. Slaven, 52, of 605 McKinnon Ave.

Officers Sunday night completed a report of an accident Friday night at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St. involving a stopped auto operated by Rebecca B. Clark, 28, of 509 Louisiana Ave., Chester, and a southbound hardtop driven by William Vuletic, 19, of Smiths Ferry. There was no damage to the hardtop but the rear bumper quarter panel and chrome strip of the Chester woman's auto were damaged, officers said.

Annual Memorial Rites Held For Beaver County Firemen

The Beaver County Firemen's Relief Association and its women's auxiliary held their 50th annual memorial services Sunday at the Industry fire hall.

The service commemorating deceased firemen and auxiliary members was attended by 200 members from the Industry, Vanport, Beaver, Brighton Township and Bridgewater fire departments and auxiliaries.

The prelude was presented by Ralph Falconer, organist, with Rev. Ralph E. Blair Jr. of the Ohioview Lutheran Church of Industry giving the invocation.

Hymns were sung by the Crucible Steel Male Chorus under the direction of Fred R. Martell and accompanied by Falconer.

Carl Taylor, chaplain of the county association, presented the tribute.

Roll calls of the deceased members were given by Warren Miller, Mrs. Charles Hooker and Mrs. James Jones.

David Verzella and Michael Mola of Western Beaver High School played "Taps."

The Rev. A. E. Williams, pastor of St. Christine Church of Industry, gave the memorial sermon and the Rev. William Beal Jr. of the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Industry presented the benediction.

The memorial services will be completed Tuesday with a parade featuring fire units and high school bands from the area. The parade will be at Beaver beginning at 7 p.m.

Plans for the homecoming observance will be completed this week.

Rev. Rose is the son of Rev. Harry Rose, a former Grant's Hill area resident.

Man Questioned In Euclid Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police blamed family problems for a shooting in which Mrs. Neva Weingard, 52, of suburban Euclid was killed Sunday night.

The woman was shot in the throat while visiting friends in another apartment in the building where she lived.

Police were questioning her brother-in-law, Paul Mahovic, 53, who gave himself up to Chardon police about two hours after the shooting.

Detectives quoted witnesses as saying Mahovic went to the apartment to find Mrs. Weingard and that the woman was shot after she objected to Mahovic's presence in the apartment.

Construction Delayed In Post Office Work

Work has been a standstill on the new $15,000 Shippingport Post Office, which was originally scheduled to be completed by Sept. 1.

According to Mrs. Florence E. Cook, postmaster, Hampton R. Grant and Son of Beaver, the contractor, has just completed laying the foundation for the building.

"From the looks of things, we won't be able to move into the new building until after Christmas," Mrs. Cook said.

The post office is being erected on Route 18 near the community building.

Crucible Will Sponsor TV Film On Industry

Crucible Steel Co. will sponsor a special telecast of a movie produced by Walt Disney for the American Iron and Steel Institute at 12:30 p.m. Sunday on WSTV at Steubenville.

Joel Hunter, Crucible's president, will introduce the movie, which is a 30-minute documentary on the steel industry called "Steel and America," starring one of Disney's characters, Donald Duck.

Crucible will make the film available later to schools, civic groups and clubs.

The first commissioner of the Southeastern Conference was the late Martin S. Conner, a former governor of Mississippi, who served from 1940 until his health forced him to resign in 1947.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second consecutive year, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., created a stir by marching in New York's Pulaski Day parade.

Last year, as a candidate for the Senate, Kennedy was accused by some of using the parade for political purposes.

He and his brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., joined the line of march at 30th street Sunday. They were asked to leave 10 blocks later by a parade committee Chairman Francis J. Wazeter and join him in the reviewing stand, which they did.

Said Wazeter: "We don't run the parade for personal publicity."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Dorothy Malone has walked for the first time since being admitted to a Hollywood hospital for surgery nearly two weeks ago.

A spokesman said Sunday the actress also was able to drink a small glass of beer and chat with her parents and a brother in her room at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The spokesman said she asked for the beer.

Miss Malone, 40, star of television's "Peyton Place," was hospitalized Sept. 21 to undergo surgery for massive blood clots in her lungs.

3rd Meter Maid Resigns City Job

Another city meter maid has resigned her post, boosting the number of vacancies to three. Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey announced today.

Mrs. Catherine Martin, 628 Avondale St., submitted her resignation effective Saturday, declaring she has accepted another job, the director said.

Mrs. Martin was one of the original group of city meter maids appointed Aug. 2, 1957.

The director said Mrs. Juanita Strobel has been hired temporarily to work with Mrs. Ruby English and Mrs. Leah Kelly, the two remaining meter maids.

Two other meter maids—Mrs. Ruth Fetty and Mrs. Pauline Nelson—also resigned last week.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission has scheduled an examination for Oct. 21 to establish an eligibility list for appointment. The test was slated after the director asked for a list to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Fetty's retirement.

Applications for the test will be accepted until noon Oct. 16.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Before washing my windows, I wipe them with a clean cloth to remove the excess dust.

Then I wash the windows with my favorite cleaner and find that they come cleaner because I do not have all of that plain mud!

One washing, with a little detergent, keeps me from having to even rinse the window. Why don't you try it?

MARY DIMAGGIO.

I tried it, Mary. And you are as right as rain.

I found that the warm detergent water left my windows sparkling. I used a squeegee.

The few remaining streaks on the edges of the window were polished with a page of newspaper. Thanks a million.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This hint is a surprise for those little cookie eaters, as well as a great time-saver:

When cutting out cookies, leave enough space between each cookie for fantastic-shaped ones with all the odd pieces of dough that are left.

Grandma's "crazy cookies" are the favorites in our home.

IRENE J.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE: I save all the change from my house money each month . . . for my spending money.

Amazing how it accumulates so fast, eh?

SNEAKY

DEAR HELOISE: Book-covering time, at the beginning of each school year, was always a problem until I thought of using manila folders.

These folders can be purchased at most drug or dime stores for just a few cents each. They are durable—not too thick—and attractive.

They can be cut easily to fit any book, and can be fastened with staples in just a few minutes. The lined creases on the folders insure a snug fit around any book binding.

BETTY LEWIS.

DEAR HELOISE: I cleaned the plastic tile in my bathroom with vinegar in the water, then dried and polished it with a bath towel. It looks like a mirror.

I wash my painted kitchen cabinets, then rinse with warm vinegar water, and polish with a towel. There are absolutely no streaks either.

Thanks to vinegar!

F.H.G.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is my solution for removing the sticky stuff left on articles such as pots, pans, plastics, etc.:

I soak off the label and dry the article. I then apply cooking oil and gently remove the goo with my fingernail. If it is only a thin layer of sticky stuff, I apply the oil and rub with a cloth on which I have put a bit more of the oil.

A READER.

It works!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making a dress recently, I discovered that I didn't have any belting—and I wanted to finish the dress so that I could wear it to a "coffee" the next morning.

While searching through my sewing box, I found a length of grosgrain ribbon, just the width I wanted to make the belt.

I used it instead of belting, and love it. It is easy to work with, washable, and not as stiff as ordinary belting.

PENNY.

DEAR HELOISE: My baby boy has a lot of three-piece sleepers (top, bottom, and booties). Some are almost the same color, and are apt to get mixed.

So, when I take them off him, I pin all parts together and wash and dry them this way. I put them away in the drawer pinned together.

SANDRA HARRISON.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Congressman Blasts Russian Wheat Sales

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Dole, R-Kan., says the United States is "dealing with the enemy" when it sells wheat to Russia, but adds there are business considerations involved in the economic considerations involved than the moral issue.

Dole, speaking before about 1,000 persons at an annual Republican Party chicken barbecue Saturday night, also attacked U. S. allies who trade with Communist countries.

Month's Rain Aids Planting

September's above average rainfall put the land in ideal condition for planting and small grains should get one of their better starts in the last several fall seasons, Edwin R. Copeland, Millport weather observer, said today.

The rainfall of 3.82 inches, almost an inch higher than the average September precipitation of 2.94 inches over the last 73 years, also provided a good third cutting of hay.

There now is an abundance of pasture for livestock, Copeland added.

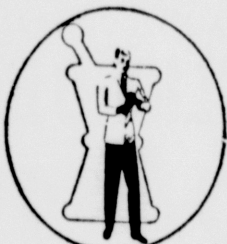

However, the rain also has caused the picking of corn to be delayed. Either a frost or a above average temperatures are needed to allow picking, he said.

Last month's rainfall brought the nine-month total to 28.9 inches, down from the 73-year average of 29.53 inches for nine months, Copeland reported.

Temperatures last month averaged 64.8 degrees, slightly higher than the 73-year average of 63 degrees. A high of 88 was recorded on Sept. 18 and the low was 32 registered on Sept. 26. There were 17 clear days, 8 cloudy and 5 partly cloudy during the month.

Potters Come Back In 2nd Half To Tie Central, 6-6

Herring Sprints 31 Yards For TD

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool-Stuebenville Central meeting was billed as an even contest and that's the way it went, ending in a 6-6 deadlock Saturday night at Patterson Field before some 4,400 fans.

The Potters struck back in the third quarter to tie the game after spotting the Crusaders a second-period touchdown.

Both coaches, Rich Pont of Steubenville and Bob McNea, elected to play conservative football. The Potters went to the air only three times. Central threw six, mostly in late stages.

The battle which had many dull moments, was even right down to the line, with Central having a slight edge in statistics.

Both schools scored in the same manner. The Potters broke speedster Daryl Herring loose for a 31-yard touchdown sprint with 9:07 remaining in the third quarter.

HERRING, a 145-pound junior, swung wide around the right side, then outran the Central secondary.

On the try for the two-point conversion which would have meant the difference, Central's Ed Kliner moved in fast to stop Nick Marchbanks in his tracks.

The Crusaders tallied with 3:45 remaining in the half on a first down play which saw Eugene Zrinyi, who was converted from fullback to halfback for the Potter game, take off on a 61-yard touchdown romp.

SEVERAL Potter tacklers had good shots at Zrinyi, but failed to stop the 160-pound back.

Zrinyi's attempted try for the two-point conversion was stopped by the Potter forward wall as he tried his right side.

Herring, in drawing his first starting assignment, was the Potters' big gainer. Possessing good break away speed, he netted 80 yards in 12 carries.

THE RUNNING of Marchbanks at the start of the third quarter helped put the Potters on the Central 31, from where Herring went the rest of the way.

Marchbanks picked up 15 yards in one burst then got another 10 on the following carry, but was not used much after that. The Potter halfback picked up 37 yards for the night as did quarterback Chuck Winters.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

EAST LIVERPOOL RECEIVED a big break on this play when Eugene Zyrini, Central halfback fumbled the football (shown by the arrow in the center) popping up out of a pile of tacklers. The fumble was recovered by Daryl Jackson on the Potter 13 to halt a Central drive.

Pair Of 20-Game Winners Meet

Drysdale Faces Grant In Series Opener Wednesday At Minnesota

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, who has never lost a World Series game, and Jim (Mudcat) Grant of Minnesota, who has never appeared in one, will be the opposing pitchers in Wednesday's opener of the post-season Series for the world championship.

Drysdale will be working with nearly a week's rest. His last effort was a 4-0 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday which extended the Dodgers' pennant winning streak to 13 straight. A 23-game winner with a 2.78 earned run average, big Don pitched 308 innings during the regular campaign. The total is second only to teammate Sandy Koufax' 335. He also hurled seven shutouts.

Grant, the Twins' leading pitcher with a 21-7 record, tuned up for the big one Saturday and was roughed up by California. The strong-armed right-hander was tagged for three runs in two innings and was charged with the loss.

Dodger Manager Walter Alton said before his team departed for Minnesota today that he would use only three starters in the Series regardless of how many games it lasted. He had Koufax, his 26 - game winning southpaw, primed for the second game in Minnesota Thursday. Southpaw Claude Osteen, with a season 15-15 record will pitch the third game, Saturday, at Los Angeles.

Manager Sam Mele of the Twins was expected to start Jim Kaat, a left-hander, in the second game and probably Camilo Pascual, the erstwhile right-handed ace, in the third game.

He also has Jim Perry, a right-hander, and Jim Merritt, a southpaw, as possible starters.

Drysdale has appeared in three World Series games. He has never opened a Series, however. The 6-foot-6 right-hander pitched in relief against the New York Yankees in 1956 without a decision, started and defeated the Chicago White Sox in 1959 and shut out the Yankees 1-0 in 1963.

"Naturally, I'm looking forward to my first Series start," he said. "I don't think the long rest is going to hurt. I threw enough in the bullpen Sunday to keep me sharp."

The Dodgers, whose principal attack consists of a walk, stolen base, error and wild pitch, will enter the Series with the lowest team batting average by a pennant winner in National League history. They finished with a team batting average of .245, yet won 15 of their last 16.

During that stretch, the Dodger pitchers allowed 17 runs in the last 16 games, which included eight shutouts. They closed the season with a 3-0 shutout against the Braves Sunday.

"We keep hearing about the club not scoring any runs," observed Alton. "I'm not so sure that we are so far behind in total runs scored between this year and our last pennant winning year of 1963."

"We may surprise somebody in the Series," Alton added. The Dodgers hit 78 home runs, to rank last in the majors. They hit only 26 at spacious Dodger Stadium.

The Twins, noted for their power, added a new dimension this year. Reports have come back to Alton that the Twins employed a diversified attack in 1965, relying more than ever on speed on the basepaths. He has been cautioned to pay special attention to speedsters Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva.

Southern Local Is 34 - 8 Victim

Review Sports Writer

Wellsville powered its way to a 34-8 rout of Southern Local on the Indians' gridiron Saturday night.

The Tigers combined an explosive offense and air-tight defense in returning to winning form after being sidetracked by Toronto last week.

The Tigers raised their season mark to 3-1 and evened the Buckeye Border Conference slate at 1-1. Southern Local dropped to an 0-2 league showing and 1-3 overall record.

Serving as the detonator for Wellsville's exploding offense, Chris "Thunder" Thornton rambled for 166 yards on 27 carries, scored two touchdowns and passed for two others.

And touchdown runs of 18 and 30 yards were nullified by penalties as Thornton fell victim to two clipping infractions. He also lost out on two other scoring chances by fumbling the ball into the alert hands of the Indians yard line as tackle Dennis Pierson covered the loose football.

Once more, the stubborn Tiger defense held the Indians, forcing them to punt from the end zone.

Weekley received the punt on the 25 and returned it to the Indians 18. On first down, Chris scampered around right end for what appeared to be his second touchdown of the contest. A clipping penalty nullified the run, however, and moved the ball back to the 33. After a five-yard gainer by Chris, Hall con-on the four- and one-yard lines of Southern Local. A third fumble by Chris slowed another Tiger drive.

WHILE Chris was igniting the power-packed Tiger offense, the defense held the Indians practically motionless for three quarters. Southern Local could drive only as far as the visitors' 48 in the first half and that drive was halted when Tiger tackle Mike Carraher recovered a fumble by Indian halfback Mike Kearns.

The Indians were unable to start a sustained march until early fourth - quarter action when an attempted onside kick by the Tigers gave Southern Local the ball on the Wellsville 49. By this time, however, the Tigers held a 34-0 lead and the second unit had entered the game.

THE TIGER defense paved the way for the first Wellsville touchdown as Thornton broke through the Indians' forward wall to block a punt on the home team's 20-yard line after the first series downs. End Ter Medley of the Tigers covered the block ball on the 17 and the victors were on their way.

Three plays later, Chris raced seven yards into the end zone with eight minutes left in the first period. Runs of nine and three yards by Chris set up the tally after Southern Local had stopped Todd Weekley for a two-yard loss on the Tigers' first play from scrimmage. Dick Hall failed to convert the extra points on a keeper.

WELLSVILLE stopped the Indians dead in their tracks after the ensuing kickoff and took over on downs at the host's 41. Four plays later, the Tigers were resting on the 18. Thornton then fought his way to the Indians' six, only to surrender the ball on a fumble at the four-

THE INDIANS couldn't drive through the Tiger defense and punted out to the 29 where Weekley scampered around trying to find an opening after receiving the ball. In the process, a clip was detected and Wellsville took over on the 45. Six plays later, Chris connected with brother Harry for an 11 yard touchdown pass and Wells-ville led 18-0, as the halftime gun sounded. A pass failed on the extra points try.

Wellsville ball control settled the issue in the second half as it took the kickoff and marched 72 yards to score. The drive ate up seven minutes with Chris crashing over from the two-yard line for a 24-0 advantage. A pass from Hall to Medley extended the lead to 28-0.

SOUTHERN Local handled the ball for three plays after receiving the kickoff before punting to the Tigers on the Wellsville 33 yard line. A clipping penalty pushed the ball back to the 14 and Wellsville started another time-consuming drive.

Penalties stalled the drive as the Tigers committed three 15-yard infractions, with the last one nullifying a 30-yard touchdown run by Thornton. Chris made up for the last penalty by connecting with Harry Davidson on a 45 - yard touchdown pass. Hall hit Medley for the ball on a fumble at the four-

Midland Stops Unbeaten Burgettstown With 6-0 Win

Mraovic Hits Bradshaw On 20-Yard Pass

BURGETTSTOWN—The Midland Leopards scored the first time they got their hands on the ball then settled down to a strong defensive game to hand Burgettstown its first loss, 6-0, here Saturday afternoon.

The loss knocked Burgettstown out of the WPIAL Class A race.

Coach Joe Cochran watched his team win its second game after suffering two reversals to East Liverpool and Beaver.

TACKLE Glenn Humbert helped set up the only touchdown of the game when he blocked a punt and Midland recovered on the Burgettstown 41.

Dave Vanlier rambled 25 yards to the 16 then went 10 more to the six. A 15-yard clipping penalty followed and Midland was moved back to the Burgettstown 21.

QUARTERBACK Bernie Mraovic then took over to pitch a touchdown pass to end Dennis Bradshaw to decide the issue with the game not very old. Bradshaw's placement on the conversion sailed wide.

A Burgettstown touchdown was called back in the third quarter when officials called the home team for offside.

Burgettstown rallied again in the fourth quarter driving to the Midland 11. With third down and four yards to go Tony Dvorsak, an all WPIAL quarterback selection pitched out to Ed Brown who fumbled but recovered on his own 19. A fourth down pass followed but failed.

TOM WUCHINA was the leading ground gainer for the Leopards with 60 yards in 17 carries while Vanlier chalked up 54 yards. Vanlier was subbing for Steve Alston who only saw limited duty due to an ankle injury.

Midland also played without the services of end John Williams and halfback Jim Smith.

COCHRAN's forces showed eight first downs and 164 yards rushing and 21 passing.

Burgettstown recorded 12 first downs, 129 yards on the ground and 64 in the air.

Defensive standouts for Midland turned out to be Humbert, Al Monac and Anthony Ciccone. Midland will host Monaca Friday night.

Twins' Oliva, Clemente Win Titles Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh and Tony Oliva of Minnesota captured their second straight batting titles in 1965. Clemente, heading the National League with a .329 average and Oliva, heading the American with .321 after Sunday's final games.

The 1965 title is Clemente's third. The 31-year-old Puerto Rican outfielder led in 1961 with .351 and had a .339 average last year. Oliva, 25-year-old Cuban, was the leader with .323 as a rookie in 1964.

Boston's Carl Yastrzemski was the runner-up to Oliva with .312 followed by Vic Davalillo of Cleveland with .301. Baltimore's Brooks Robinson was fourth at .297.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was second in the National League with .318. Then came Willie Mays of San Francisco .317 and Billy Williams, Chicago, .315.

Baltimore's best defender against San Francisco end Dave Parks turned out to be the 49ers' Monty Stickles.

And, if that sounds confusing, consider Green Bay's Vince Lombardi, who was disturbed by the Packers' 23-14 victory over Chicago and the Bears' George Halas, who was delighted by it.

Best of all, the hero of Cleveland's 35-18 victory over Philadelphia wasn't fullback Jimmy Brown, who scored three touchdowns and set a National Football League record, but an unsung linebacker named Sid Williams, who recovered a key fumble.

It all happened Sunday as Baltimore hung on despite Parks' brilliant performance and beat the 49ers 27-24. Green Bay scored its third straight victory but disappointed Lombardi and Cleveland came from behind to whip the Eagles.

Elsewhere, New York outlasted Pittsburgh 23-13. Detroit stopped Washington 14-10 and Minnesota topped Los Angeles 38-35.

Dallas plays at St. Louis tonight.

Parks caught nine passes for 231 yards and three touchdowns as the 49ers put on a late spurt against the Colts. He might

Installing Of Clothes Pole Viewed As Simple Operation

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The old-fashioned wood clothes pole was a fairly easy item to install.

The portion which was set beneath the ground was larger than the exposed section of the pole and showed just how deep the hole was to be made for proper placement.

The new type of pole — usually referred to as the "umbrella-type" — is generally made of aluminum and presents a different problem. When fully loaded, the wash hung from it acts as a sail, and unless the assembly is properly installed it is apt to collapse.

The proper way to install the modern clothes pole is to make a hole in the ground about one foot in diameter and 18 inches deep.

This should be filled with concrete to a depth of about three inches. A metal sleeve is set in the very center of the hole and the concrete poured in all around. The top of the sleeve should be above the ground by about two inches and must be in a true vertical position.

After the concrete has set (four to five days), the shaft of the dryer can be dropped into the sleeve which will offer a firm solid base which no amount of wind will upset.

Care should be taken to put a wood plug in the sleeve or a metal cap over it if the dryer is taken out of the ground for any reason. This is to prevent dirt and stones from filling up the sleeves.

Town Gets Tired Of Yule Displays

DUMAS, Tex. (AP) — This town has found that people can tire even of Christmas—the displays, that is.

That is why Dumas, 48 miles north of Amarillo, has placed its city Yule decorations on the auction block.

Each Christmas season since 1959, Dumas Avenue has been renamed Storybook Lane and the city has placed 50 8-foot-tall figurines in an eight-block area.

"Our people have grown accustomed to them," said Herbert Harter, chairman of the decorations committee, in explaining why they have gone on sale.

No price had been determined. The figures were painted by a Dumas artist and were lighted.

Action Urged On Utilization Of Salt Water

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States called today for the mounting of a worldwide cooperative effort to solve the problems of converting salt water to fresh economically and in the shortest possible period of time.

The call was sounded to the world's nations by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, who said man's survival is threatened by shortages of drinkable water and that desalting ocean and brackish inland waters offers the best answer.

Udall welcomed on behalf of the United States and President Johnson delegates from 65 countries including the Soviet Union to the first international symposium on water desalination.

He said the week-long technical sessions are designed to bring about an exchange of information and ideas by "the most impressive array of water engineering talent ever assembled in history."

"Nonetheless," Udall said in his prepared remarks, "we hope for more from this conference than a mere exchange of technical information."

Wait A Minute! You Could Have Valuable Antique

Question: We have fallen heir to an old bureau that came from France and is said to be more than 150 years old.

One of the short legs in the rear is a bit shaky.

Two of the drawers do not go in and out easily and the finish is not in very good shape.

Although I have never done any work of this kind, I would like to try my hand at refinishing this bureau. Should I use nails or screws to tighten the leg? How do I make the drawers fit so they will slide properly? What is the best way to take off an old finish, and should I use oil stain in applying a new finish?

Answer: Hold on a minute! You may be in possession of an antique worth considerable money. We're going to be very frank and tell you that your questions make it evident you would be very foolish to attempt to restore a piece of furniture of value.

First of all, get two or three appraisals of the worth of the bureau, not necessarily with the intention of selling, but to find out what you have.

Secondly, your first refinishing task — and possibly two or three after that — should be on some furniture that you know has little value. Why not buy a piece of furniture in one of those second-hand shops sponsored by a charitable organization?

You can pick something up for a few dollars and experiment with it all you wish until you get hang of repairing, taking off old finishes and putting on new ones. And whether you are working with cheap furniture or, perhaps at a later time, good furniture, be very, very wary about the use of nails for making repairs such as you mention. Unless expertly done (and experts don't do it) nail repairs in furniture are likely to result in immediate or eventual splitting of the wood.

Lone Major Project

Building Permits Fall To $142,917

East Liverpool saw new construction estimated to cost $142,917 get under way in September, a drop of $211,463 from the August total of $354,380.

Mayor George E. Willshaw's office issued 29 building permits last month, most for comparatively minor remodeling and repair projects.

The lone major project was a $100,000 nursing home on Armstrong Ln., on which construction was launched by Floyd C. Cox, contractor, Mr. and Mrs. Toney Adkins are the owners. The nursing home accounted for more than two-thirds of the dollar value of the September permits.

The August total was swelled similarly by a major project. Herman Hoppel began construction of a new apartment complex on Gaston Pl. at the foot of St. Clair Ave.

HERE ARE the other September permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated costs:

Daley Requested To Act In School Crisis At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — An integration group has asked Mayor Richard J. Daley to intervene in the Chicago public school crisis involving $30 million in federal education funds.

The dispute arose Friday when the U.S. Office of Education ordered that $30 million in federal funds be withheld from Chicago public schools for failure to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, an organization of integration groups, appealed to Mayor Daley in a telegram Sunday.

"Because of an intransigent superintendent of schools and a school board hardly able to take the most feeble steps forward, segregation and inequality in Chicago's schools has brought on a crisis of catastrophic proportions with the withholding of federal funds."

"We now call upon you to enter this situation with vigor and determination to bring Chicago schools into compliance with the Civil Rights Act, and to encourage in every possible way the city's full cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education."

School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, 63, was rehired by the Chicago Board of Education in May to a four-year contract, with the stipulation that he retire on his 65th birthday in December 1966.

Aluminum Often Given Do-It-Yourself Treatment

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The bright, reflective surface that typified aluminum for so many years is often being covered these days.

In addition to the factory-applied coatings that usually are baked on, ordinary aluminum is getting the do-it-yourself treatment from many home owners who once thought that this useful metal could not be satisfactorily painted.

Aluminum may be painted because of a desire to cut down its shine, to change its color or to add to its natural corrosion-resistant qualities.

Exactly what is done to get a satisfactory result depends on the age and condition of the metal, as well as the purpose for which the paint is being applied.

New aluminum has an invisible coat of oil on it. Generally, wiping with mineral spirits will prepare the surface properly. But if this does not appear to have removed all oil, grease and dirt, then it may be necessary to wash the aluminum with a phosphoric acid mixture.

In using this acid, be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions carefully.

When aluminum has been exposed to the weather for a month or two, the oil coating will have been washed away, and no acid wash is required.

A conventional primer will satisfactorily prepare the surface for the finish coats. But in an extremely corrosive atmosphere, such as near a chemical plant, it is best to apply a primer with a corrosion-inhibiting pigment.

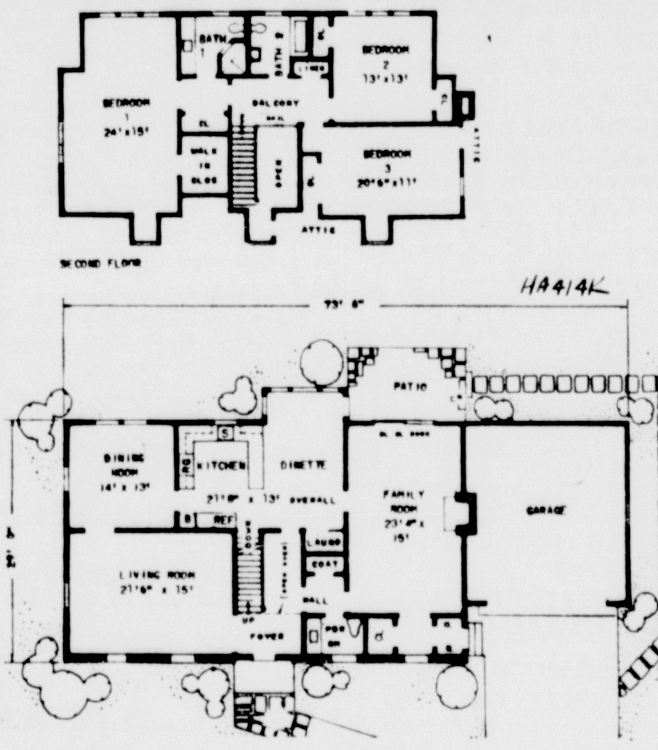

Once the prime coat is on, aluminum will "take" almost any paint or enamel which is suitable for wood or metal.

Some aluminum, such as that used on window frames, is given a clear coating to protect it during shipping and installation.

As with the oil coating previously mentioned, this will wear away in time. If it doesn't—and you wish to paint the aluminum—inspect the clear finish carefully. If it is adhering tightly, you can paint right over it.

If there are signs that it is wearing, then it must be removed with a solvent, a scraper or sandpaper. Incidentally, on way to determine whether the coating needs removal is to test it with a scraper. If scraping takes off some of the coating, then all of it must be removed before painting.

Should you desire to retain the original appearance of aluminum with lacquer or similar clear finish, remember that you will have to renew it more often than paint, especially if the aluminum is exposed to the elements.

TWO-STORY AT ITS BEST. The second floor of this two-story home has three large bedrooms, two baths and multiple closets. CLEVELAND (AP) — Franklin F. Gottfried, 52, former school superintendent at Elyria, died Sunday in St. Luke's Hospital after becoming ill at the home of a friend in suburban Shaker Heights. Gottfried was superintendent at Elyria for 12 years until last July, when he resigned to take a similar post with the Proviso Township (Ill.) School District near Chicago.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS
Parents Should Guide Pre-School Child

Since school began, many a heavy little heart has been aching on school mornings. The child not quite old enough for school sees his playmates going but he must stay behind. It may be hardest if his next-older brother or sister is entering school for the first time. When the old Dr. Garry Myers er brother or sister returns from school during the early weeks and tells of his many happy experiences at school, the younger one may listen in great wonderment. He may not have so much to tell about.

Consequently the younger child may feel that his place on the home stage has shrunk in importance.

Sheriff Reports On Jail Activity For September

LISBON — Seventy-nine prisoners were received at the County Jail during September, Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports.

They were in addition to the 40 already confined as of Sept. 1. Seventy were released during the month, two were conveyed to state institutions and five mental patients were taken to state hospitals.

Meals served during September totaled 4,191, with the overall cost $1,348.31, an average per prisoner of 96.5 cents.

Van Fossan also reported 283 papers were served and 6,122 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,217 phone calls at the jail. There were 307 visitors to the jail during September.

One thing she can safely do for him is to read to him more and more, and encourage him in creative fun at drawing, painting, cutting and pasting and molding with clay. But her temptation is to do many of these things herself and just let him watch her.

I remember a time, when as a guest in a home, seeing the father of a five-year-old girl drawing pictures for her to admire as she sat beside him. It seemed to me he did so for almost an hour! Not one picture did she draw herself. She just watched as if watching TV.

SO, ASIDE from reading to the young child not quite old enough for school, the wise parent aims constantly, while trying to amuse this child, to cultivate in him increasing ways to amuse himself. Of course, this objective is hard to keep in mind and to attain.

The mother of the child too young for school may try to teach him what he might be getting if he were in school, even in the first grade. She may set out to teach him to read, write, spell and cipher.

If reasonably skillful, she might attain amazing success in this direction. But it's doubtful if she should try to do so, especially if it becomes a task to him. In her eagerness, she easily could do him harm and make school learning, when he later enters school, unattractive to him.

But if she kept on reading and reading to him and encouraged him at creative fun with his hands, she probably would do most to further his success in the future at school.

IN THE meantime, she should set the stage so he will converse with her a great deal. She should never cease to answer all his questions kindly and try to stimulate his curiosity.

Perhaps the most important thing the mother can do for this child is to help him have some playmates of his age. If none are nearby, she should go with him often to a home where such playmates live. In some neighborhoods a number of mothers of children too young for school, work out a cooperative program in which the mothers take turns at having several children in their home for an hour or more daily.

Crashes Kill 24 Over Ohio On Weekend

Traffic Miscellaneous Total 24 2 26

By The Associated Press
Ohio recorded one of its highest weekend traffic death tolls of the year as at least 24 persons lost their lives over the past weekend.

More than half of the deaths—13—came on Saturday, including one accident in which three persons died and another that killed two.

Sunday accidents included one in which a man and wife were killed in Columbiana County.

One weekend traffic victim, an 18-year-old London girl, actually drowned but her death is counted as a traffic fatality since her car ran off Ohio 42 and plunged into a creek.

In addition to the traffic deaths, a Steubenville man burned to death in a fire at his home early Saturday and a Niles steelworker was killed when part of a girder on which he was working fell.

Sunday
Beverly Ball, 18, London, drowned after her car ran off Ohio 42 north of London and plunged into a creek.

Edwin Bettis, 24, and his wife, Janice, 21, Salineville, in a two-car collision five miles south of East Liverpool.

James H. Peguese, 35, Farrell, Pa., died in a Youngstown hospital five hours after his motorcycle slammed into a stopped automobile on U. S. 62 at Ohio 7 in Hubbard Township.

Mrs. Julia Challingsworth, 70, Streetsboro, in a collision involving one or two cars and a truck at the intersection of U. S. 250 and Wayne County Road 84 seven miles south of Wooster.

Catherine Troyer, 18, Middlefield, died in a Chardon hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car collision at intersection of Ohio routes 528 and 87 in Middlefield.

Herman C. Boike, 68, Lansing, Mich., when his car ran into the rear of a slow-moving truck loaded with steel on the Ohio Turnpike near Youngstown.

Saturday
Evelyn I. McMillen, 44, Cleveland, when her car struck the rear of another one on Interstate 71 north of Greene-Fayette county line.

Otis D. Cottrill, 57, Massillon, when car hit guard rail on U.S. 21 south of Navarre.

Charles Stewart, 37, burned to death in his home in Steubenville.

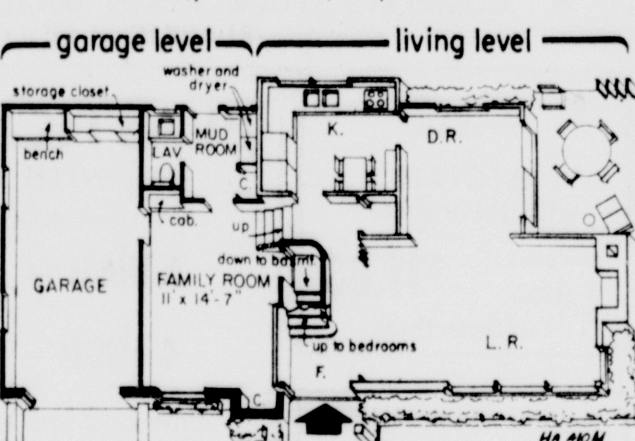

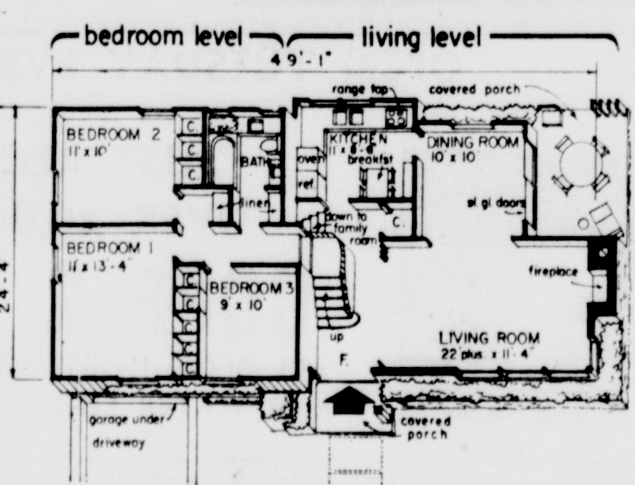

Mrs. Irene W. Borz, 65, Euclid, and Mrs. Edith Marie Wright, 48, Willoughby, in two-car crash at intersection east of Ashland.

Joseph Kovalak, 41, Niles, when part of girder on which he was working fell at the Republic Steel Corp. plant in Niles.

Mrs. Freda L. Elmore, 51, Zanesville; Carl W. Mihm, 49, Nova, and Mrs. Annabelle Boyer, 46, South Zanesville, when truck and car collided on U.S. 250 near Milan.

Joe Bloomquist, 4, Sandusky, when he fell out of utility van south of Sandusky and was hit by car.

Mrs. Linda Siegel, 22, Cleveland, struck by car as she stood behind her parked auto in Cleveland.

THE MODEST-INCOME GROUP was in the mind of Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, N. Y., when he designed this split-level home. He was attempting to offer livability, space, efficiency and comfort. Dirt and mud tracking traffic can be isolated to the garage-family room-mud room level. The off-set dining room has a porch for outdoor living, which is hidden from the street. Three bedrooms are served by a bath with two lavatories. There also are two linen closets. Plan HA410M has 1,108 square feet on the living and bedroom levels.

Chamber Asked To Correct Stand On Tax Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council for Education has asked the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants to join in correcting what it contends are "falsehoods" in an official statement opposing its proposal to increase the state sales tax.

James O. Brennan, the educational group's director, said Sunday night he turned to the Retail Merchants, who have opposed the issue, and the Chamber, which is providing "neutral" information on it, because of his ire over the statement. He said he was particularly irked by the bold-faced, capitalized headline in the 300-word opposition statement, which claims that issue No. 1 "hurts the teacher—poorer school districts—children of low-income families."

The statement to which Brennan referred was one to be mailed by Secretary of State Ted Brown to Ohio voters along with a statement favoring the issue prepared by Brennan's group. Mailing of pro and con statements on such issues is required by law within 30 days of the election.

Caution Cited In Steel Mart

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel Magazine said today consumer caution in liquidating steel stocks will mean that inventory workdown will extend into the first quarter of next year.

The metalworking weekly said producers do not anticipate unusually severe market dislocations the rest of this year.

Among reasons cited for the consumer caution are the continued high level of economic activity and heavy current and prospective steel consumption. Also, fears that the Viet Nam situation may worsen and bring supply pinches lurk in the background as well as anticipation of selective price hikes, Steel said.

Steel estimated incoming mill business as down an estimated 25 per cent from that of August, but added that producers are aggressively seeking orders in what is termed a buyers' market. Shipments are down an estimated 30 per cent, it said.

Indications are that mill lead-times on most products will be back to normal sometime this month, Steel said.

Ingot production dropped last week for the fifth straight week. Output was an estimated 2.2 million net tons, off 59,000 tons from the preceding week, and a further decline is predicted, Steel said.

Open hearth melting of steel is being retired in favor of basic oxygen furnace production where possible. The basic oxygen furnace can turn out 300 tons hourly while open hearth production potential runs 40 to 60 tons, Steel said.

Goldbergs Entertain Johnson And U Thant

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, entertained President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant at a dinner Sunday night.

Two-score officials and their wives were invited to the dinner in Goldberg's suite at the Waldorf-Astoria.

'Pressure' Seen Need For Negro Housing Change

CLEVELAND (AP)—A "large wave of pressure" will be needed to break down the barriers keeping the Negro in ghetto areas, says Joseph Robison, attorney for the National Committee against Discrimination in Housing.

Robison told a workshop on housing Sunday the pressure must come from a substantial movement of Negroes into areas now closed to them.

Without this pressure, he said, Ohio's new fair housing law will not be effective.

State Rep. Carl B. Stokes, D-Cleveland, said the law, which takes effect Oct. 30, is "the best kind of bill ever enacted by a state in its first effort."

The workshop, at St. James AME Church, was attended by representatives of Cleveland and suburban groups working for fair housing.

Hall Of Fame Planned In Conservation Field

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inductees into the newly created Ohio Conservation Hall of Fame will be announced at the 1966 Ohio State Fair.

Gov. James A. Rhodes announced creation of the Hall of Fame Sunday and appointed Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr as chairman of the selection committee.

Barman Shouts, Pub Floor Falls

LONDON (AP)—Fred Percival roared the traditional "Time, gentlemen, please" to close his pub Sunday and the floor fell in.

Grimly clutching their glasses, some of his best customers dropped two feet into the hole that opened up in the crowded bar.

A voice complained from the rubble: "Don't shout again, Fred—we're going."

Percival, keeper of the Hope and Anchor Tavern in suburban Tottenham, blamed the collapse on a new subway tunnel being built nearby.

"No one was hurt," he said. "And not a single glass was broken."

Funds Juggled To Pay Guard On Hurricane Duty

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Calling out the National Guard for duty during the Hurricane Betsy emergency in Louisiana was easy: paying off the Guardsmen was a little more difficult.

The bill was $300,000. The National Guard treasury didn't have $300,000 so it called on the Louisiana Board of Liquidation of State Debt. The board kicked in with $100,000—the maximum under state law it can give any agency in a single year.

Getting the other $200,000 was a matter of juggling funds. The board withdrew $200,000 in surplus funds from another account, gave $100,000 to the state treasurer's office and $100,000 to the Public Works Department and directed those agencies to pass the money along to the Guard.

Junior Editors Quiz on
BIRD MIGRATIONS

QUESTION: What birds make the longest migration?

ANSWER: In spite of much study, many mysteries remain about why and how birds migrate. Why do young bobolinks, for example, leave their summer homes in August—when insect food is still plentiful and they have never experienced the cold weather that is coming? And exactly how do birds find their way over ocean areas, without rivers or mountain ranges to guide them? Some scientists think they may navigate, using stars and sun in something of the way sailors do.

If we can't give exact answers to these questions, we, nevertheless, can name the long-distance migrating bird champion: the Arctic Tern. These amazing, graceful little creatures, only 17 inches long, breed on the coasts of Greenland and the far northern islands of the Arctic Ocean. In August, some fly down the west coast of the Americas and others follow a route touching the African coast. They move south towards the shores of Antarctica, a distance of 11,000 miles, where they spend the winter. In spring they start to fly toward the Arctic again, another 11,000 miles. A 17-inch bird journeying 22,000 miles a year! We can't explain such an astonishing feat, but we can join with you in wonder and admiration.

FOR YOU TO DO: Read everything you can find about the subject of bird migration and clip out this article to paste in your scrap book of interesting birds and animals. If you do not have one, why not start one right now?

Naomi Gardner of Mt. Herman, Calif., wins today's combination prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Union OK's New Paper Pact, But Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mailers Union and publishers agreed today on a new contract, but the strike of the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild against the New York Times continues into its 19th day.

Only two of the city's eight major papers are publishing since the strike-shutdown started Sept. 16.

Agreement on the two-year mailers-publishers pact was announced jointly by John J. Gaherin, president of the Publishers Association of New York City, and Thomas Laura, president of Mailers Union Local 6. The document must be approved by the parent AFL-CIO International Typographical Union at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Details of the settlement were not disclosed.

Laura said the 1,400 mailers "will be available for work as soon as we get its approval and providing there is no picket line."

All newspaper unions have refused to cross the picket line set by the New York Times unit of the Guild.

Settlement Seen In Boeing Strike

Results of the meetings should be known by early evening.
